

a story about a dog, her human, and a forest

May The Forest

StellaLuna ...the puppy who helped me rediscover the forest.

StellaLuna was just a little puppy when her human brought her home to live with him and his family. Since she was a German Shepherd puppy, she was already bigger than her older brother and two sisters; Scamp the Jack Russell, Lola the Chihuahua, and Oreo the cat. She was definitely too big for her sister's little Chihuahua bed.

When she got older and much bigger she started going on walks with her human (aka Me) in the forests in the Pacific Northwest. While hiking they would go on adventures looking for faces in the trees (they tend to hide). This is the story of one of StellaLuna's adventures in the Pareidolia Forest. Oh, and StellaLuna told Me that she can talk to trees, but I think she's making it up.
